Terms of Use for ASX Data

PLEASE READ THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF USE CAREFULLY BEFORE INCLUDING ASX FUTURES TRADES IN THE TRADE DATA. By including ASX futures trades in the Trade Data for analysis from time to time, the Client signifies its consent to these terms of use. If the Client does not agree to these terms of use, it should not include ASX futures trades in the Trade Data.

The Client agrees that it:

1. will be bound by ASX's standard terms set out in the "ASX Market Information Products & Services Guide", as published by ASX from time to time online on www.asxonline.com (the "Guide");
2. will not use ASX data for any illegal purpose;
3. will allow ASX or ASX's authorised representatives to enter its premises and audit its systems, records and usage of ASX data (in accordance with the information industry best practice and the Guide);
4. will obtain and provide any consents needed for ASX, or ASX's authorised representative, to review and receive personal data in connection with any audit;
5. will not bring a claim or commence any proceedings directly against ASX; and recognises the intellectual property rights of ASX and ASX and its supplier's rights to legal remedies in respect of ASX data.
